

I am against allowing broadcasters to own more stations. I find it appalling that despite the overwhelming opposition, the FCC is moving forward with this. Even more disturbing is that the public comment was so limited on this issue - with commissioners having to resort to "non-sanctioned" public meetings to solicit opinions on this very important issue.

This is a bad idea and will do irreparable harm to the public good.